CDN Cotton Wick Guide

This Wick Guide is for use in container candles. It is an approximate guide for you to make candles using our Soy wax and your containers.

PLEASE NOTE: This is a GUIDE ONLY – Individual testing in individual environments is strongly recommended. We do not guarantee that the wick listed below will be the correct wick for your jar/container. This is intended as a starting point only. You must perform test burns to evaluate suitability and adjust wick size and fragrance load until you achieve your desired outcome.

Measure the inner diameter of your vessel and select the option closest to your diameter. You will often be faced with multiple options. The larger the CDN size, the larger the flame the hotter it will burn.
